

Blue text appears against a black background.

Text appears: I'm ready to enter this new arena.

The camera rotates to reveal a black and white headset floating in a living room—the Razer Kaira Pro for PlayStation.

The screen splits in half as the headset appears beside a wireless PS5 controller and Razer Quick Charging Stand, which are also in black and white.

Text appears: But I won't be alone.

The screen wipes away to reveal the side view of a gamer wearing the headset. It vibrates to highlight its haptic technology.

Text appears: I will feel my enemies around me.

Text appears: And hear every sound they make.

The camera shifts downwards as the charging stand drops into view, against a background of action-packed gameplay.

Text appears: I will be tested by the length of battle.

The wireless controller floats down and rests on the charging stand.

Text appears: But I will always endure.

We cut to gameplay of an exciting skirmish with weapon fire from all angles, as the player coolly eliminates enemies one by one.

Text appears: No matter how many foes I face, my plan always stays in place.

Text appears: Cyberpunk 2077.

Against a black and blue background, we see letters start to take shape around the charging stand and headset.

Text appears: Razer Quick Charging Stand. Razer Kaira Pro.

Text appears: Connect. Compete. Conquer.

Against a black background, one final statement is made.

Text appears: And I will only get stronger.
