CONGRESSIONAL SCORECARD

Measuring Support for Equality
in the 117th Congress

HUMAN
CAMPAIGN®

Dear Friends,

Informed voting and political representation matters. In the past two years, pro-equality advocates and elected officials have achieved important victories in our shared fight for equal rights.

We have seen truly historic, landmark legislation advance the fight for LGBTQ+ equality this Congress. On December 13, 2022, the Respect for Marriage Act (RMA) was signed into law, repealing the discriminatory Defense of Marriage Act and creating federal protections for same-sex marriages. 51 House and Senate Republicans voted to pass the RMA, the most of any LGBTQ+ pro-equality legislation even during an intensely politically polarized Congress. This record-breaking, bipartisan victory highlights the immense support LGBTQ+ equality has amassed across the country. I was lucky enough to be in the Senate chamber when the RMA passed, along with my wife and our one-year-old son. Being in that room, and at the White House signing event soon after, felt nothing short of monumental, even as we recognize how much more must be done in the fight for full equality.

Speaking of that fight, in February of 2021, we also saw the Equality Act pass in the House. This landmark achievement moved us an additional step forward towards reaching greater protections against discrimination for the LGBTQ+ community at a national level.

Additionally, Congress has acted on key legislation on other critical issues that impact our communities, including reproductive justice, combating gun violence, expanding voting rights, and advocating for just immigration policy. Together, the House and Senate passed the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act, the most significant gun violence prevention act passed in U.S. history.

We've achieved great advancements in political representation for the LGBTQ+ community. Congress currently holds a record number of openly LGBTQ+ members from states across the country. The first Senate confirmed LGBTQ+ cabinet member, Pete Buttigieg, serves as the U.S. Secretary of Transportation. Assistant Secretary for Health for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Admiral Rachel Levine, became the first Senate-confirmed openly transgender federal official in the history of our nation. And, in a celebrated confirmation, Kentaji Brown Jackson became the first Black woman to serve on the Supreme Court of the United States. These historic firsts represent important steps towards building a government that is as diverse as the nation it serves.

The 117th Congress has been marked by historic achievements that reflect the commitment of pro-equality advocates in the fight for equal rights. We also recognize that our progress is under renewed attack by extreme forces. Now more than ever, it is essential that voters remain vigilant and informed as they hold elected officials accountable and make decisions about which candidates to support.

In the last two years, anti-equality legislators have shamelessly targeted the basic rights of LGBTQ+ people and other underserved communities. These include attacks on the rights and lives of trans and non-binary youth, attacks on reproductive rights, and attacks on voting rights. Although the majority of these attacks took place in the states, some members of Congress joined in attempts to undermine our foundational rights.

Anti-equality legislators at every level of government are threatening the hard fought progress we have made. We need to fight back, and we need to put our full force into the hard work necessary to ensure full equity for the LGBTQ+ community and other underserved populations.

We hope the 117th Congressional Scorecard will help you to stay informed on your elected officials' records on key issues that impact the LGBTQ+ community. We hope it serves as a valuable tool in holding your elected officials accountable in our shared effort towards achieving equity and equality for all.

Endnotes

- 1 Although Sen. Warnock missed this vote on the Respect for Marriage Act, he voted in favor of cloture of the legislation on November 29, 2022.
- 2 Traditionally, the Senate Minority Leader does not co-sponsor legislation; score is based solely on votes.
- 3 Sen. Schumer supported cloture on the motion to proceed to the John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act of 2021. However, because of Senate procedure and his role as Majority Leader, he changed his vote to “no” in order to preserve the ability to bring the bill back up at a later date. Sen. Schumer is officially recorded as having voted no, but we list him as supporting HRC’s position supporting the bill.
- 4 Traditionally, the Senate Majority Leader does not co-sponsor legislation, although Sen. Schumer did co-sponsor the Equality Act and the International Human Rights Defense Act of 2021; score is based solely on votes.
- 5 Missed the vote on the confirmation of Alison Nathan but submitted a statement into the Congressional Record indicating he would have voted for her confirmation.
