Required tools

Tag management

Tag management is used to manage the use of the tools on the various pages of our online service. For this purpose, a tag is defined for each page. The tag can then be used to determine which tools are to be used for this page. Tag management can thus be used to specifically ensure that tools are only used where they make sense and are legally legitimized.

Analytic tools

Market research / Reach measurement

The aim of reach measurement is to statistically determine the intensity of use and the number of users of an online service, as well as to obtain comparable values for all connected offers. Market research aims to learn more about the target groups that use services or applications and view ads. At no time are individual users identified. Their identity always remains protected.

Marketing tools

Profiles for needs-oriented design of the online service

In order to be able to constantly improve the online service, we would like to create so-called clickstream analyses. The clickstream corresponds to your movement in the online service. The analysis of the movement paths provides us with information about the usage behavior. This allows us to identify possible structural errors and thus improve the user experience

Profiles for personalized recommendations

Telekom would like to offer you individually adapted, personalized, action and click recommendations for offers, services or products. To do this, we use service providers to create a pseudonymous profile of the online services you access on the Internet and assign categories to this profile. You will be shown content or information that matches the profile.

Required tools

These tools are necessary for you to navigate through the online service and use essential functions. They enable basic functions, such as order processing in the online store and access to secure areas of the online service. Furthermore, they serve the anonymous evaluation of usage behavior in order to continuously develop our online service for you. The legal basis for these tools is §25 para. 2 no. 2 TTDSG (Telecommunications Telemedia Data Protection Act), Art. 6 para. 1b GDPR or, in the case of third countries, Art. 44 ff. GDPR.

Analytic tools

These tools help us to better understand usage behavior.

Analytic tools enable the collection of usage and recognition data by us or third parties, in so-called pseudonymous usage profiles. For example, we use analytic tools to determine the number of individual users of an online service or to collect other statistics relating to the operation of our products, as well as to analyze usage behavior based on anonymous and pseudonymous information about how users interact with online services. It is not possible to draw any direct conclusions about a specific person. The legal basis for these tools is §25 para. 1 TTDSG (Telecommunications Telemedia Data Protection Act), Art. 6 para. 1a GDPR or, in the case of third countries, Art. 49 para. 1a GDPR.

Marketing /Retargeting

These tools are used to show you personalized and therefore relevant promotional content.

Marketing tools are used to display interesting advertising content and to measure the effectiveness of our campaigns. This is done not only in Telekom online services, but also in other online services (third-party providers). This is also referred to as retargeting. It is used to create pseudonymous content or ad profiles, to serve relevant ads in other online services and to derive insights about target groups that have viewed the ads and content. It is not possible to draw any direct conclusions about a person in this context. Marketing and retargeting tools help us to display potentially relevant advertising content to you. By suppressing marketing cookies, you will continue to see the same number of advertisements, but they may be less relevant to you. The legal basis for these cookies is §25 para. 1 TTDSG (Telecommunications Telemedia Data Protection Act), Art. 6 para. 1a GDPR or, in the case of third countries, Art. 49 para. 1a GDPR.
