

SUMMIT OF THE FUTURE ACTION DAYS

Draft Programme-at-a-glance

20-21 September 2024

Summit of the Future
Our Common Agenda

OVERVIEW OF THE SUMMIT OF THE FUTURE ACTION DAYS

The world is at a precipice.

Advances in technology, science, medicine, and ways of working hold enormous promise for people and planet and for advancing peace and prosperity. Yet, as a global community, we face an array of consequential challenges, and even existential risks, including climate change and biodiversity loss, conflict and displacement, endemic poverty and unprecedented displacement. We have agreed the vision of the world we want in the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), but we are not on track to realise that vision. Meanwhile, new challenges and opportunities defy our grasp. These opportunities and challenges transcend national borders. In our deeply interconnected and increasingly multipolar world, international cooperation holds the key to effectively managing our collective success, and even to our survival.

This is a moment in history where we face a pivotal choice as a global community – breakthrough or breakdown.

Inaction almost guarantees a future of persistent crises and breakdown, whilst a breakthrough will not happen by itself. We must come together and make a conscious and collective choice to change course. We must evolve our ways of working, leverage the promises of technology and harness the power of all actors. And we must rebuild trust in each other and the multilateral system.

The Summit of the Future marks the beginning of a journey.

It will serve as a springboard to a more sustainable, peaceful and just future for all. It will do so by focusing attention and action on creating a multilateral system that better reflects the geopolitical realities of the 21st century, one that is more just and one that is capable of responding to the challenges and opportunities of today and tomorrow.

First, by putting in place new international norms and mechanisms to both manage and harness the potential of emerging areas of innovation. Second, by doubling-down on our efforts to achieve the world envisaged by the UN Charter, the SDGs and our commitments to address climate change, with a particular focus on making sure we have the necessary resources and fit-for-purpose institutions to deliver. Finally, it will challenge us to take a fresh look at the United Nations, its institutions, and ways of working to be more networked, inclusive and effective by meaningfully engaging all stakeholders.

The Summit offers a once-in-a-generation opportunity for change.

It will pave a way to a better tomorrow that we can only shape together.

In support of this vision and objectives, The Summit of the Future Action Days will be convened by the Secretary-General of the United Nations on 20 and 21 September 2024 at United Nations Headquarters in New York to generate additional opportunities for the engagement of all actors.

Bringing together representatives from Member States, civil society, private sector, academia, local and regional authorities, youth, and many more, the Action Days will provide an opportunity for broad engagement and inclusion. These stakeholders have all played a key role in shaping the Pact for the Future and its annexes, and will be critical to implementation.

The Action Days will kick off with a dedicated, youth-led afternoon followed by a Saturday programme which will focus on three priority themes – digital and technology, peace and security, and sustainable development and financing. In addition to the three themes, there will also be a dedicated focus throughout the day on future generations. Expected participants include Heads of State, Ministers, senior UN officials and representatives from the private sector, civil society and other actors.

ACTION DAY 1

Friday, 20 September 2024

ACTION DAY 1 – FRIDAY, 20 SEPTEMBER - OVERVIEW

The Action Days are an opportunity to elevate the voice of youth in the multilateral system. Youth are key participants in efforts to secure breakthroughs in global cooperation. Youth challenge conventional thinking, hold leaders to account and are focused on generations that come after us. Youth stand to lose the most if global leaders fail to fulfil their promises. The Action Days will kick off with a dedicated, youth-led afternoon facilitated by the United Nations Youth Office in close collaboration with relevant networks/stakeholder groups to generate momentum ahead of the mandated Summit. The day will be convened under the theme of “#YouthLead for the Future: We believe in the promise of a better world for all”.

ACTION DAY 1 – FRIDAY MAIN EVENT PROGRAMME - DETAILED

Friday Opening Ceremony (13:00-14:00, General Assembly Hall)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and Executive Office of the Secretary General

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: The opening session aims to ignite inspiration and action to advance meaningful youth participation in the UN and beyond – as an issue relevant and important to all sectors and actors. Through keynote speeches from diverse set of representatives, speakers will highlight the role of young people in driving positive change across sectors and broader society.

Dialogue with the Secretary-General (14:00-15:00, General Assembly Hall)

Convenors: UN Youth Office

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: In an interactive dialogue, youth advocates and the United Nations Secretary-General Antonio Guterres, will unpack what the implementation of Chapter 4 of the Pact for the Future means in practice. This open dialogue will provide a unique venue to discuss actionable steps, share best practices, and have an honest conversation about what comes next.

#YouthLead: Gender Equality for Adolescent Girls and Young Women at the Heart of Multilateralism (15:30-16:45, ECOSOC Chamber)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and partners

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: This session seeks to galvanize action and explore innovative approaches that empower adolescent girls and young women at all levels – from global multilateral platforms to local community initiatives. It will build upon the momentum generated by the ICPD30 Cotonou Youth Action Agenda, the Girls Pact for the Future, the ECOSOC Voices of Youth Report, the Young Feminist Manifesto, and the Manifesto for MYE for youth with disabilities, among other key youth priorities.

#YouthLead: Intergenerational solidarity and equity for a shared future (15:30-16:45, Trusteeship Council Chamber)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and partners

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: The session brings together young leaders and experienced decision-makers to forge a path toward a more sustainable, equitable, and inclusive world. Amidst ongoing environmental crises, economic disparities, and social inequalities, this session emphasizes the need for innovative initiatives that incorporate the voices and needs of both present and future generations. It aims to empower young people with the skills and opportunities to participate meaningfully in global decision-making processes. Utilizing a participatory format, participants will delve into critical topics such as green skills, civic engagement, health, and financing.

#YouthLead: Governance for human rights, peace and security and political processes
(15:30-16:45, Conference Room 4)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and partners

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: The session will address the barriers to meaningful youth participation in decision-making at both national and international levels, providing actionable recommendations for Member States to enhance youth engagement. The session will feature two intergenerational dialogues focusing on national and international youth participation, discussing challenges and solutions, with a focus on human rights, political participation and youth, peace and security.

#YouthLead: Inclusive digital future for all (16:45-18:00, ECOSOC Chamber)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and partners

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: Building on the Pact for the Future and the Global Digital Compact, this session seeks to underscore the concerns of youth in the digital age, from the lack of meaningful youth participation in AI and digital governance to the need for equitable access to digital tools for youth of all backgrounds. Further, it will explore ways young people have already been using their creativity, energy, and innovative perspectives to drive positive social change with the help of digital technologies.

#YouthLead: Strategic foresight in climate and sustainability (16:45-18:00, Trusteeship Council Chamber)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and partners

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: This session will activate the participation of all attendees, including through a practitioner-led, youth foresight exercise centered on how we can unleash the potential of youth to address the climate crisis.

#YouthLead: Innovative solutions in humanitarian action (16:45-18:00, Conference Room 4)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and partners

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: The session will amplify youth-led innovative solutions for emergencies and prolonged crises and aims to address the root causes of humanitarian situations and forced displacement, and support inclusion in national systems. By fostering dialogue and strengthening partnerships among youth-led organizations, young leaders, policymakers, and humanitarian actors, the session seeks to mobilize commitments to increase investment and resources for youth-led initiatives and integrate their participation in decision-making processes.

Friday Closing Ceremony (18:20-19:15, ECOSOC Chamber)

Convenors: UN Youth Office and Executive Office of the Secretary General

Focal points: Romeral Ortiz-Quintilla (youthaffairs@un.org)

Description: The closing session will serve as a space to reflect on the discussions of the day. Youth rapporteurs from each of the thematic sessions will present and discuss the main recommendations and actions from the events with the Deputy Secretary-General of the United Nations.

A Peaceful Future for All (10:30-17:00, Trusteeship Council Chamber)

Convenors: Department of Political and Peacebuilding Affairs (DPPA); Department of Peace Operations (DPO); Office for Disarmament Affairs (ODA); Office of Counter-Terrorism (OCT)

Focal points: Ingrid Laslett (newagendaforpeace@un.org)

Description: Trust, Universality and Solidarity are core principles from A New Agenda for Peace.

This session will galvanize the strong support for these principles in tangible ways, with focus on an intergenerational dialogue for peace, dismantling patriarchal power structures, civilian protection in urban settings, a call to action for a future without terrorism, and imagining peace in a digital world.

SESSION	TIME	Description
ACT 1 - A world where we are all equal - Session 1: Intergenerational dialogue for peace	10:30-11:20	A session to explore ways in which different generations can exchange views on the search for peace in a more complex and divided world.

SESSION	TIME	Description
ACT 1 - A world where we are all equal - Session 2: Dismantling patriarchal power structures	11:20-12:10	The purpose of this session is to help build participants' understanding of what 'patriarchal power structures' are, how they affect the lives and opportunities of all people, the particularly pernicious effect they have in conflict-affected contexts, and to consider concrete steps that can be taken to dismantle such structures to create a more just, fair, equal, and inclusive future.
ACT 2 - A world free of violence - Session 3: A Call to Action for a Future Without Terrorism	12:10-13:00	Through audio-visual presentations and remarks from prominent leaders and experts, this session will envision a cooperative, networked and interconnected approach to tackle conflict and the spread of terrorism.
Walk for Peace	13:00-15:00	As part of the Action Days, participants are invited to join a "Walk for Peace," a voluntary and reflective journey across the United Nations premises, along a route that highlights significant art pieces related to the search for peace, donated by various member states. This unguided walk offers an opportunity to explore the artwork that represents peace, solidarity, and global unity.
Walk for Peace - optional self guided tour	13:00-15:00	As part of the Action Days, and in celebration of International Day of Peace, participants are invited to join a "Walk for Peace," a reflective journey across the United Nations gardens, along a route that highlights significant art pieces related to the search for peace, donated to the United Nations by various Member States. Along the route, participants will encounter several notable art pieces. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Start: 'Non-violence' statue (knotted gun) • 'Good Defeats Evil' (destruction of a missile). • 'Peacekeepers Memorial'. • 'Victims of Terrorism Solidarity Tree'. • 'Peace is the Way' Ghandi bust. • 'Trophy of Civil Rights' (Berlin Wall Fragment). • 'Peace Monument' • 'Let us Beat Swords to Ploughshares' • Finish: 'Arc of Return'.
ACT 2 - A world free of violence - Session 4: Protection of Civilians in urban settings	15:00-16:00	This session will raise awareness about the impact of the use of explosive weapons in populated areas by State and non-State actors, including terrorist groups. Renowned storyteller Giles Duley, the United Nations Global Advocate for Persons with Disabilities in Conflict and Peacebuilding Situations, will describe the long-term impact of war through the stories of five survivors of armed conflict. The session will amplify these voices and highlight the humanitarian impact of war and its legacy on individuals and communities and call for Member States to address how to better protect civilians and to support survivors.
ACT 3 - A more resilient world - Session 5: Imagining Peace in a Digital World	16:00-17:00	This session will explore future scenarios for international peace and security, considering themes such as new and emerging technologies and climate change, with a particular focus on how digital technologies can be harnessed for peace. This session will showcase multi-stakeholder perspectives and opportunities for collaboration in an interactive dialogue that will feature a demonstration of digital technologies and audience engagement.

A Sustainable Future for All (10:30-17:00, Conference Room 4)

Convenors: United Nations Development Programme (UNDP); Department of Economic and Social Affairs (DESA)

Focal points: Renata Rubian (renata.rubian@undp.org); Sangita Khadka (sangita.khadka@undp.org); Astra Bonini (astra.bonini@un.org); Alternate: Riina Jussila (jussila@un.org)

Description: The sessions on a Sustainable Future for All focus on multi-stakeholder partnerships and key action areas of sustainable development and financing for development that will deliver on the aspirations of the 2030 Agenda and turbocharge progress on the Sustainable Development Goals, building from the SDG Summit.

The sessions will also highlight priority measures to accelerate transformation of global governance for the next chapter of multilateralism that is more inclusive and fit for the challenges of the 21st century. There will be an emphasis on addressing the financing challenges that stand in the way of sustainable development, providing a bridge of discussions between the Summit of the Future and the upcoming Fourth International Conference on Financing for Development to be held in June 2025.

SESSION	TIME	Description
Session 1: Sustainable development in a time of global transformation	10:30-11:25	The first session of the event takes stock of SDG implementation in an era when humanity faces growing catastrophic and existential risks, but also rapid advances in knowledge, science, technology, and innovation. Present and past policy makers will assess how we can shift the focus from short-term gains to long-term sustainable development progress, for current and future generations.
Session 2: International Tax Cooperation – A new frontier for inequality reduction	11:25-12:35	The session will explore the role of taxation as an instrument to mitigate inequalities to close the the financing gaps. Novel proposals including carbon taxes, levies on fossil fuels, taxing the super rich, corporate taxation etc. will be discussed to address contemporary manifestations of inequality, including post-pandemic economic divergence, climate injustice, rising conflict, and gender inequality.
Session 3: Addressing debt challenges for sustainable development	12:35-13:30	Debt levels in developing countries have risen sharply compounded by high debt servicing and refinancing costs, narrowing the fiscal space for SDG implementation. The session will consider bolder, multilateral solutions for addressing this problem.
Session 4: Scaling up development and climate financing	15:00-16:00	The investment needs and financing gap for sustainable development has grown. Speakers will propose concrete actions to radically scale up development and climate finance to meet the SDG investment needs of developing countries to counteract the highly volatile financial landscape while emphasizing that the most vulnerable are at the heart of financing considerations.
Session 5: International Financial Architecture for the 21st Century	16:00-17:00	Through high-level dialogue and expert remarks, the session will address how leading multilateral institutions are preparing for the future, the need for an international financial architecture that supports sustainable development, and the risks they must overcome to fulfil the expectations of global citizens, for 2030 and beyond.
